We have a blog where the author expresses her opinions, ideas, and suggestions about how to best visit Paris. She shares practical and historical information as well as tips and tricks to inspire and contextualize the tourist. In our website we provide for the Users or Clients an online store (E-shop), where we sell three types of guides: a practical guide, a detailed guide, and a customizable guide to visit Paris depending on the amount of days per visit.
- c) The Client: Any legal person, business, organization or other type of legal entity that successfully purchases products from Descubre Paris, on the website DescubreParis.com.
- d) Receipt: Document that confirms the payment of the Product and displays the unit price, applicable discounts, Sales Tax if applicable, and the total amount paid.
- e) Practical Guides: digital, downloadable guides with specific, practical, and useful information that aides in making decisions on how and when to visit Paris, how to visit specific places or particular themed guides around the city.

- f) Detailed Travel Guides: Digital, downloadable guides with predesigned circuits where the tourist is guided step-by-step to discover the most iconic places around the city, without having to worry about the how since every step is clearly detailed in the document, with historical information as well as prompts and anecdotes.
- g) Personalized Travel Guides: Digital, downloadable guides that are customized for the traveler according to their specific needs, dates of travel, time of arrival, place of staying, preferences, priorities and wishes. These guides are made-to-order with a specific delivery timeline.
- h) R&C: Requests or complaints a user presents through the website or the contact email provided.
- i) Product: Any good or service advertised or offered by Descubre Paris.
- j) User: Any person that accesses or uses the website Descubreparis.com
- k) The terms “us”, “we”, “ours” will refer to Descubre Paris, the terms “you” will describe both Users and Clients, depending on the context.

2. DESCRIPTION AND ACCEPTANCE OF TERMS

These Terms and Conditions of Buy and Sell, from here on referred to as T&C or The Agreement, regulate the use of the website www.descubreparis.com and of any of the contents Descubre París provides for any internet user.

The T&C contain information related to your rights, limitations to these rights, obligations, applicable laws and the jurisdiction in case of legal dispute, among other things. This document constitutes a valid, unique and comprehensive agreement between the parties on the terms, conditions and restrictions of the obtained Products and it explicitly excludes any other agreement be it electronic, oral or written between yourself and Descubre Paris, without prejudice to what is indicated in Chapter 15 of the agreement.

We strongly encourage you to read closely the Agreement before acquiring our products. Through the Agreement the Clients or Users declare they know and accept the full extent of general conditions of the good or services they will be acquiring, according to the information provided by Descubre Paris.

Whereby the present T&C you guarantee that (1) you are of legal age according to the legislation of your country; (ii) you count with legal authority to conclude this agreement and use the goods and services available: and (iii) that all information provided is true and accurate.

By making a purchase through our website or accessing or using our Products, you accept without reservations being bound by our Data and Privacy Policies and by the here presented T&C. Furthermore, you declare to have read and understood all the terms presented.

Descubre París offers through their website Products that could be held under particular validation conditions that Descubre París will inform to the Client in due course.

The Clients and/or Users acknowledge and accept that all Descubre París products will be for private use of the person acquiring the products and not for commercial purposes.

You acknowledge as well, that the content and available information in Descubreparis.com (including, but not limited to, messages, data, sounds, graphics, videos, maps, icons, information, text, music, software, etc.) as well as the structure used to provide said content and information is exclusive property of Descubre París.

Descubre París may impose limits or restrict in any way your access to the Products due to technical or security reasons; to avoid unauthorized access, due to loss or destruction of data; when it is considered that you are breaking any of the mentioned provisions in this contract or if there is suspicion of any lawbreaking, for any reason and without previous warning.

As a consequence, Descubre París may terminate an agreement with you if you breach any of the T&C, Privacy and Data Protection Policies or if we suspect you are involved or committed to any illegal or fraudulent activities. This means that Descubre París may eliminate your Username and terminate access to the Products at any moment.

Descubre París reserves the right to utilize any necessary means to verify the identity of the Client or User so as to process the purchase order.

Previous sign up or the creation of a User Name to access the website is not necessary. However, it is possible we may keep billing information for up to ten (10) years. In accordance to the prevailing legal dispositions.

3. RESPONSABILITIES AND LIMITATIONS

The products offered by Descubre París are a subjective selection of the most emblematic locations in Paris, "City of light". These products include restaurant suggestions, cafés, nightclubs, hotels, museums, and other sights of interest that can showcase the spirit of the city and/or help specific objectives of your trip.

The products that Descubre París offers its Clients or Users are "Helpful Travel Guides" with solely informative purposes, where we present what we consider appropriate in order to have a pleasant experience in Paris.

Descubre París is not a travel agency or a tourism operator, it does not provide, possess, manage or have contracts with transportation provider services, lodging, restaurants, tours, cruise ships, activities or other type of experiences.

Although we provide information regarding some commercial establishment, this does not mean, suggest or constitute in any way commercial endorsement, sponsorship, affiliation, association, commercial agreement or approval between Descubre París and said establishments.

Where Descubre París provides details on third-party vendors rates, this information is provided merely as a reference guide. Due to that, Descubre París is not responsible for any error or imprecision regarding the information and description of lodgings, experiences, flights, airlines, cruises, restaurants or any other product seen in our page (including availability, changes of address, updates on service hours, price variations, change of owners, product descriptions, closure due to renovations, public events, manifestations, police checkpoints, and any other incident that could occur within the different establishments and/or public places recommended in the Products.)

To obtain more information on the recommended places, the Client must directly communicate with the establishment by consulting their website or using whatever medium they consider best. However, Descubre París reserves the right to update this information, as much as possible, in future editions of their Products.

The Client acknowledges that any interaction executed with a third-party vendor is done under their own responsibility. Likewise, any dispute or conflict regarding a transaction between the Client and a recommended establishment, including the quality of service, state of facilities, security, legality and capabilities of the establishment, as well as acts, omissions, errors, representations, guarantees, negligence or infractions from any third-party vendor or any situation of personal harm, death, property damage or any other damage and expenditure derived from these situations, is wholly responsibility of the establishment. Descubre París does not characterize or guarantee that visits to the suggested locations will be risk-free, and it does not take responsibility over loss or damages that may occur from the visting to those establishments. Likewise, we don't assume any responsibility over time delays, changes of schedule, cancelations, overcharges or any hardship caused by accidents, health complications, mechanical failures, theft, missing luggage, strikes, political or national security factors, quarantines or natural phenomenon such as earthquakes, hurricanes, tsunamis, snow storms, cyclones, tornados, landslides, and any other any force-majeure situations that may occur before or during your trip.

The Client recognizes and acknowledges that Descubre París does not offer any guidance for obtaining exit permits for minors, visas, Tourism Cards or any other paperwork required by migration authorities, and that Descubre París does not have any influence over the workings of said authorities. Furthermore, the Client is entirely aware that their behavior in the country and any other inconvenient whether of penal or civil nature in which they find themselves involved are the Client's exclusive responsibility.

Therefore, the paperwork, due diligence of requirements and documentation needed to enter or stay in a country and the result of said arrangements fall within the competence of the entities in charge of issuing said documents and exclusive responsibility of the people who request them. Descubre París urges their Clients to research any travel bans, restrictions, warnings and announcements issued by their governments and by the relevant authorities in France.

4. DESCRIPTION OF THE BUY AND SELL PROCESS

The Practical Guides, Detailed Travel Guides, and Personalized Travel Guides are available in the Online Store (E-Shop) found in Descubre París.

Every product consists of a protected PDF document, the size of which varies according to the amount of days or the type of Product selected by the Client. This information is specified in the detailed description of each product in the Online Store (E-Shop).

The Client or User accesses the Online Store (E-Shop) and chooses the Product that most interests them from the selection provided on the main page, which is organized by categories and can be filtered by a set of given options.

To purchase the Product the Client or User must add it to the cart. To pay, they must click "GO TO CART" where they can verify their selection. The Client or User can add more products if they wish so, but they must be from a different category from the one already in the cart. Once the Client or User is happy with their decision they can proceed to checkout by clicking on the "BUY" option.

This initiates the purchase validation process. At this point, the Client must fully complete the required forms in the different stages of purchase.

5. PRICES

- a) The prices published in Descubre París are presented in EUROS (€).
- b) The Client must pay the equivalent in their local currency, according to the going exchange rate.
- c) Descubre París has no control over the exchange rate and does not publish or manage any exact information or variation of the exchange rates. Therefore, we recommend to the Client to consult their local financial entities or a qualified professional to verify the accuracy of the currency exchange rates and commissions at their time of purchase.
- d) The corresponding prices for each Product are indicated on the website for the date of the Client's purchase order.
- e) The fees include all taxes, rates, and due contributions.
- f) Your order may be subject to a sales tax that is calculated beforehand and will be notified at the moment of your order. It is possible your order may be exempt from said tax, according to your country of residence and associated to the condition in which you place your order (business owner, professional or an individual). As a consequence, in some cases it may be possible that the final price on your order will present changes compared to the prices presented in the website. Because of that, you must research your local tax laws before placing an order of any of our Products, to verify if you must pay this or any other kind of tax.

g) The rates are subject to change, become unavailable or invalid without notification, by decision of Descubre París, or in accordance to rate regulations that the corresponding entities enforce.

h) Rates do not include the cost of tickets to the recommended places, without limiting what is indicated in Chapter 15 of these T&C.

6. METHOD OF PAYMENT

All payments of Products acquired on this website are processed exclusively by Braintree and PayPal on behalf of Descubre París.

PayPal presents two forms of payment: an option for people with a PayPal account and an option for people without one. In the first case, the Client with a PayPal account may input their PayPal account information and pay as usual through the platform. In the second case, if the Client does not have a PayPal account they must follow the instructions presented and provide the information needed to realize the payment.

Once the payment has been realized, the Client will immediately receive an email with a summary of their purchase or order, payment confirmation, and access to the link where they can download the Product they acquired. They Client may download the file up to two (2) times in a period of no more of 365 days starting from their day of purchase (whichever happens first).

Successful payments for Guides are not adjustable, endorsable, subject to revision or refundable, regardless of the season.

Through this document, the Client accepts to receiving automatic digital receipts of their purchases. They must verify the details in their confirmation receipt and contact us as soon as possible if they find any inconsistency.

Electronic receipts will be sent automatically as a PDF. If for whatever reason the Client does not receive their Receipt, they can email us at ventas@descubreparis.com with the subject line: Request of Receipt Copy. In the message they must indicate the name of the person who placed the order, date of purchase, purchased Product and Order Number. Descubre París will send the Receipt via E-mail in no more than ten (10) working days following the communication.

Braintree and PayPal's terms of services may vary according to the Country where the Client is based and Descubre París has no influence over this.

The Client uses said platform under their complete responsibility, which is why we recommend reading Braintree and PayPal's T&C's and Privacy Policies since they may have policies and regulations regarding personal data that may be different from those covered in our website.

7. AVAILABILITY

All of our Products are immediately available and, since they are digital copies, they generate no extra shipping fees.

Our online store (E-Shop) works 24 hours per day, 7 days a week, during the 365 days of the year.

However, Descubre París, cannot guarantee that the access will be entirely uninterrupted or without errors. Descubreparis.com may become unavailable temporarily without warning in case of system failure, maintenance or any other reason beyond our control. The unavailability due to system updates or upkeep does not give the Client right to any sort of reimbursement or compensation.

Likewise, the Client or User acknowledges that the availability and quality of service may vary as a result of several factors, such as: the device being used, geographical location, available internet bandwidth and/or their internet connection.

In case of a problem when downloading the document, the delivery will be done via email within no more than three (3) working days starting with the date of purchase and after payment verification.

8. CLIENT AND USER OBLIGATIONS

The User and/or Client is obliged to the following:

- a) Download and update any spyware and malware required by their computer, tablet, cellphone or electronic device, to guarantee the proper working of it. It is up to you to take all necessary precautions to avoid coming across web links that contain viruses, worms, trojan viruses, defects or any other destructive software.
- b) Make sure they have a good internet connection so they can purchase the Product and download it in a timely manner.
- c) Abstain from using obsolete versions of their web browsers. If you are not certain, we recommend researching your browsers updates.
- d) Having enough storage space within the electronic device they will be using to download and consult the acquired Product.
- e) Downloading the acquired Products in the timeframe allotted for it.
- f) Keeping the downloaded document in a safe place, where they will have access to it during their trip, considering they may not have constant internet access.
- g) Guarantee that all information provided to Descubre París is true, accurate, timely and complete when creating their Username and/or when requesting a Personalized Travel Guide.
- h) Keeping their contact information updated.

- i) Keeping close control over the use any person may do of their debit or credit cards, or any other method of payment available in our platforms. Therefore, releasing Descubre París from now on from any responsibility from purchases made from your account without your permission.
- j) Utilizing Descubre París's Products, website, contents, and services in accordance to what is established by law, the presented T&C, Data and Privacy Policies, morals and good habits generally considered acceptable to public order.
- k) Reimburse Descubre París for any complaint, lawsuit, loss, damage, fine, penalty, legal fees, among others, as a consequence of your breach of the present Agreement or the illegal or improper use of the Products in Descubre París, their website, or the infringement of our copyright.
- l) Check currency conversion rates at the time of purchase in case of making a transaction from a country with a currency other than the Euro; currency in which the fees are presented on Descubre París.

9. PROHIBITIONS

Through this document you acknowledge and accept that any modification, copies, distribution, redistribution, broadcast, exhibition, execution, reproduction, replication, publication, creation of any derivative work, transference, sale, resale (whole or sections) of any information, software, or Product obtained in Descubre París is strictly prohibited without the previous, written consent of Descubre París.

Through this Agreement you agree to:

- (i) Not access, monitor, reproduce, distribute, broadcast, disseminate, show, sell, authorize, copy or in any way exploit any content found within the Products of Descubre París.
- (ii) Not taking part of any movements that could or may impose a disproportionate load on our infrastructure in a way that it hinders other Users or Customers from accessing the website normally. This may be through the massive consumption of the technological resources offered in the Products of Descubre París.
- (iii) Not taking part in actions that harm, interrupt or generate errors or alterations in the systems or services of Descubre París, such as the insertion of programs, malware, bots or any other.
- (iv) Not disable or interfere with the functions related to the security of the Products, or with those that restrict the use or copying of any content.
- (v) Not destroying, altering, disabling, damaging or in any other way tampering with the data, programs, content, services or electronic documents found in our website.
- (vi) Not creating deep links, mirrors, or incorporating any part of our Products in other websites.
- (vii) Not downloading any content that had not been previously authorized by Descubre París.
- (viii) Not using our website for purposes that may impinge on the interests and rights or others.
- (ix) Not registering under false identities or impersonating other people.

The breach of any of the above obligations or prohibitions may result in the cancelation of services from Descubre París, without previous warning to the Client and with no right to compensation.

10. ADDITIONAL SALES TERMS AND CONDITIONS

- c) The Client ensures to Descubre París the legal origins of the monies with which they made the transaction.
- d) Descubre París is under no responsibility with the Client, User or any third-party in the case of unauthorized transactions done under the Clients Username. Unauthorized use of their Username may incur in further responsibilities with Descubre París or others.
- e) To make use of our Products, the Client will also have to accept the terms and conditions of PayPal, Braintree or any other platform that Descubre París chooses to use to manage payments.

11. RETURNS

Descubre París does not accept to managing returns of our Products, due to the fact that:

- (i) We offer digital Products that are downloaded immediately after the purchase;
- (ii) We sell Products created under specifications of the Client, as is the case with the Personalized Travel Guides;
- (iii) These Products are sheltered under the exemption to the right of withdrawal contemplating the regulations of the EU (Directive 2011/83/EU of the European Parliament and of the Council of 25 October 2011).

For the above reasons, no payment done by the Client will be reimbursed, under no circumstances.

12. INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY

The brand Descubre París, any nomenclature or distinctive symbols of any of the content found in Descubreparis.com are properly registered and protected by Law.

Any content within the website, unless stated otherwise, is of exclusive ownership of Descubre París, including, but not limited to: graphic design, source code, logos, catchphrases, text, graphics, illustrations, photography, headers, button icons, etc.

Descubre París does not grant any kind of license or authorization for personal use to the Client or User over the intellectual property or copyright or over any other right associated to the website or the Products offer within. For the above reasons, none of the registered trademarks or business appearance of Descubre París can be used in any way that could cause confusion among users or that could discredit Descubre París.

Due to the above, the Client or User acknowledges that any copies, reproductions, distribution, selling, replica, or any other general form of use that exploits, by any means or mediums, any part or whole of the contents found in Descubreparis.com, constitutes a breach of Descubre París's copyrights, and they pledge to respect all the ownership rights belonging to Descubre París or any third-party vendors.

Furthermore, we reiterate that any reference to goods, services, processes, or any other information related to other businesses, trademarks, providers, manufacturers, or others does not constitute or imply an endorsement or sponsorship from Descubre París.

13. DATA PRIVACY

Through Descubreparis.com is gathered personal data belonging to the Clients or Users, which is why we ask you to read closely our Privacy and Data Protection Policies, Cookie Policies, as well as any additional information provided with the forms where personal information is requested.

Descubreparis.com may make use of cookies or similar technologies that will adhere by what is established in our Cookie Policies, which is an integral part of these T&C and is accessible at all times for the Users or Clients.

14. JURISDICTION AND GOVERNING LAW

The Client acknowledges that if they have a question or complaint with Descubre París, due to or related to the Products offered here, they will communicate first with us via Email to try to bring you a solution.

If Descubre París does not provide a satisfactory answer to your complaint within 60 calendar days, and your place of residence is in the European Union, you may turn to the alternative conflict resolution included here: <http://ec.europa.eu/consumers/odr/>.

In the event of both parties not reaching an agreement in the above manner, all contractual disputes or non-contractual ones will have to be resolved preferably by the appropriate courthouses in France. However, their jurisdiction is nonexclusive. This means that if the Client is a consumer resident of the EU, they may also claim their rights according to these T&C in France as well as in their country of residence, alternatively.

These T&C as well as any complaint or contractual or non-contractual grievance that comes up due to or is directly connected with them will be regulated and interpreted in agreement with French legislation, expressly excluding the United Nations Agreement on Contracts for the International Sales of Goods.

However, if you are a consumer with a place of residence outside of the European Union, you also count with the protections offered by mandatory provisions in the legislation of your country of residence.

Descubre París will prosecute the infringement of the present T&C, as well as any undue use of the website exercising all civil and criminal actions that may correspond.

15. SPECIAL CONDITIONS FOR PERSONALIZED TRAVEL GUIDES

Since the Personalized Travel Guides offered by Descubre París are made to order, you must carefully read the following special conditions.

Any detail not specified in this chapter will operate by what is indicated in the texts of the T&C.

a) Buying Process

- (i) The Client or User contact Descubre París through the form available in the website letting us know their interest in obtaining a Personalized Travel Guide.
- (ii) Descubre París will return the email asking for information on the details of their trip.
- (iii) Descubre París will issue a quote in no more than seven (7) business days, from the day when the Client/User sends the requested information.
- (iv) If the quote sent by us is of your interest, you must answer via email citing expressly that you accept the offer. Keep in mind that each quote is valid for six (6) months.
- (v) Descubre París will ask the Client further questions to obtain relevant information for the creation of the Personalized Travel Guide.
- (vi) Once the Client sends their answers via email, we will send you an Invoice and the T&C.
- (vii) The Client makes the payment of the Invoice.
- (viii) Once the client has made their payment, they will receive an email with a summary of their order, payment confirmation, and the dates in which they will be receiving the link to download the Product they acquired.
- (ix) In no more than twenty (20) business days, starting with the day when the Invoice was payed, Descubre París will send the Client the instructions and links where they can download the Personalized Travel Guide they acquired.

b) Price and methods of payment

- (i) The Price of the Personalized Travel Guides will be determined by Descubre París, according to the specifics and interests mentioned by the Client or User when they first contact us.
- (ii) Payment will be processed through the platform PayPal, following the general instructions in chapters 4 and 6 of the T&C, where it corresponds.
- (iii) In such case where the Client changes some of the terms of their trip, after the Invoice is sent out, they recognize and accept that the price of said Invoice may vary at the discretion of Descubre París.
- (iv) Descubre París's services are limited to the creation of the Products indicated in the website and these T&C. However, in the specific case of the Clients that acquired Personalized Travel Guides and ask of Descubre París that they purchase tickets for some establishments, Descubre París may provide this service, but is not obliged to do so. In this case, the Client will assume the extra cost of these tickets, according to the rates and procedures that Descubre París state at the moment.

c) Special Obligations of the Client

- (i) Sending in due time all the information requested by Descubre París, as detailed as possible, so that we can create the corresponding Invoice, guaranteeing the veracity, accuracy and validity of the information.
- (ii) Clearly accepting the offer sent by Descubre París, via email, and making the payment of the corresponding Invoice.
- (iii) Checking the validity, conditions, and restrictions specific for the Personalized Travel Guides.
- (iv) Notifying Descubre París in no more than five (5) business days, starting from the moment in which the payment of the Invoice is completed, of any changes in your itinerary, dates, specific interests or any other event or circumstance that may affect the creation of the Personalized Travel Guides, independently from the reasons why said changes are taking place. The Client can request those changes only one time, assuming the difference in cost after the modifications are considered, if such is the case.
- (v) Promptly pay the cost of the Personalized Travel Guides and of the extra costs generated by additional services, such as, but without being limited to, the purchase of tickets or passes to different establishments in the city.

16. MODIFICATIONS ON PRODUCTS AND TERMS OF USE AND SALE

The Customer is subject to the T&C currently in force at the time of their order.

Descubre París reserves the right to change, add, update, discontinue certain products in the website. We may also modify our Privacy and Data Protection Policy, Cookies Policies, the present T&C, our conditions and general policies, when we consider it necessary for legal or technical reasons or by requirement from the authorities, among others.

You acknowledge that continuing to use or accessing our Products after said changes means you recognized the Agreement after updates or modifications. Therefore, you expressly agree to honoring the conditions within the T&C, with all modifications, immediately.

Descubre París will notify the registered Clients or Users about the material changes of the T&C, whether via email to the address provided by the Client or through a notice in our website. However, we recommend consulting our website periodically to familiarize yourself with the most recent version of the T&C, since all revisions shall be binding upon publication.

If any of the present conditions were to be declared invalid, void, ineffective, said condition will be considered as excluded and will be replaced by a valid one with a definition that resembles as closely as possible the original clause, without it affecting the validity or enforceability of the remaining valid conditions.

Through this Agreement the Client accepts and acknowledges that Descubre Paris has no obligation to store or keep their content or any other information provided in any other way not ordained by the applicable legislation.

Descubre París will state the date in which these T&C where last revised at the end of this document.
